Tablelands Wildlife Carers

I'd like to thank the committee for the generous NWC grant to purchase a possum rehabilitation and release enclosure.

It arrived at the very beginning of February as a flat pack. With the help of friends we were able to erect it in what ended up being the better part of a day. Since then, it's been fabulous. As soon as it was erected, I had an orphaned ringtail possum to move straight in.

Just before her planned release another injured ringtail came into care and I was able to house them both so they could be released together.

Since that time I have been caring for a delightful young brushtail possum who on an evening's gallivanting found himself down a chimney. He was in care since Easter until his very recent successful release.

The Possum Palace has allowed easy access for care. There are two wings with a dividing sliding door so the cage can be one big space or two smaller spaces. I have used the cage in both ways, it's been fabulous, thank you.

Warm regards, Megan Robinson
